

5 THINGS TO DO WITH YOUR GARDEN LOG CABIN

One of the great things about having your own garden log cabin, is having the freedom and flexibility to enjoy your new space in any way you choose. Fancy a bit of luxury at home? Or somewhere to entertain your mates? A garden log cabin is the ideal place to create your own outdoor home sauna, or outdoor kitchen, or wooden playhouse, or whatever your imagination can conjure up.

1. Relax in an outdoor home sauna

Hot tubs for the garden are really accessible these days. Take a look around any garden centre and you'll find a plethora of hot tubs and Jacuzzis, of various specifications. Inflatable hot tubs are a fast and easy way to make your outdoor home sauna fantasy, a reality.

Or treat yourself to a pre-fabricated hot tub with all the bells and whistles. Pre-fabricated hot tubs are usually made from moulded acrylic and can be fitted with surrounding shelving units, which are custom-made to fit your tub. These units provide the ideal place to store your towels, bath robes, slippers and sound systems – so that you can enjoy your outdoor home sauna in all its glory.

A garden log cabin, like the Helena pavilion, can be designed to suit your outdoor arrangement and provides the ideal shelter to enjoy a home spa experience, under the stars and sheltered from the weather.

2. Entertain your mates in an outdoor kitchen

BBQ season doesn't need to end when the nights draw in and the days get cooler. An outdoor kitchen provides a great way to enjoy your garden in the winter months, and gives you even more space to socialise with your guests.

It's really easy to create an outdoor kitchen. An impressive gas BBQ and stainless-steel sink can be fitted within bespoke timber units, or outdoor shelving units from any DIY store. Ensure you have plenty of storage space for pots, pans and utensils too, and fit some LED lighting to extend your evenings.

A garden log cabin, like the Helena 2 pavilion, offers plenty of space and shelter to enjoy your outdoor kitchen. Add some garden furniture and warm blankets to keep your buddies comfortable.

3. Inspire your children's imagination with a wooden playhouse

A garden log cabin can be used as an exciting wooden playhouse, which your children will love. The sturdy design makes for a warm and practical play area, which can be used as a study den, or somewhere to enjoy a movie night with friends. Add a few beanbags and warm blankets inside and let your children choose the colours for paint and accessories, to really make the space their own.

When not in use, you can store your children's toys in painted crates, or hanging baskets. The doors of our garden log cabins are secure and lockable, so you can store your everything safely without concern.

A garden log cabin, like the Helena 300, makes a great wooden playhouse for your children.

4. Create your own space with an awesome man cave

If you're looking for somewhere to store your football trophies or your extensive collection of DVD's and VHS's (which you can't just throw away, because they might be worth something in a few years) then why not create your own unique space at the bottom of the garden.

A garden log cabin, like the Falkland 400, makes the perfect man cave. There's plenty of space to set up your games console and TV. You can even move your gaming chair inside and build a unique shelving area for all your collectables and music LPs.

Of course, a man cave is nothing without a space to sit and enjoy the great outdoors. This garden log cabin has a sheltered area with built-in bench – perfect for watching the night sky and enjoying a nightcap.

5. Find time to exercise with a home gym

If you never find time to exercise, or you simply don't have the space for a home gym, a garden log cabin can facilitate this need. Tucked away in the garden, away from the main house, a log cabin home gym will not only provide additional space for exercise bikes, treadmills and dumbbells, it will also minimise noise disturbances from heavy machinery.

A garden log cabin, like the Roma, has ample space for gym equipment. The slatted windows keep your expensive equipment partially concealed, and the double doors are secure and lockable for additional security.

As well as all this, having a private home gym means you can finish up with the weights, take a shower and be sat down in time for Goggle Box, without ever hitting any traffic.
